

Prof. Dr. Steffi Robak, after studying educational science and modern sinology at the Humboldt University Berlin, doctorate and habilitation in adult education, since March 2011 professor for adult and continuing education at Leibniz University Hannover, concurrently managing director of the institute of vocational and adult education, of the department DiversitAS (Diversity, Migration and Education) as well as German director and chairperson of the Leibniz-Confucius-Institute.

Main research: Cultural and Transcultural Education, Educational Management and Professionalization in Adult Education/ Further Training (AE/ FT), Digitization in the AE/ FT, Research on Programs and Program Planning, Learning Cultures in Adult Education and in Further Training in Enterprises, International Human Resource Development and Globalization, Research on Institutions, Change of Organizations and Consequences for Professional Action, Comparative Adult Education Research.